U.S. AIR FORCE

What is AFDW?

- AFDW HQ is located at Joint Base Andrews (JBA), MD and is one of four direct reporting units (DRUs) to the CSAF
- AFDW executes six distinct missions, one of which has become colloquially known as AFDW's Worldwide Mission

Worldwide
Mission

- AFDW is made up of the 316th Wing and 844th Communications Group which are located at JBA and the 11th Wing, Joint Base Anacostia-Bolling (JBAB), DC

U.S. AIR FORCE

AFDW Overview

- AFDW resulted from the merging of three distinct missions:
 - Provide administrative support to Headquarters AF Airmen in National Capital Region
 - Present AF Forces to JTF-NCR/CC at Ft. McNair, DC
 - Provide administrative support and Command Authority to Airmen not assigned to a MAJCOM and whose Commander is not authorized to execute S/GCMCA – the Worldwide Mission
- Since AFDW stood up in 2004, the Worldwide Mission has grown in scope and depth

U.S. AIR FORCE

Why do we have AFDW Worldwide Airmen?

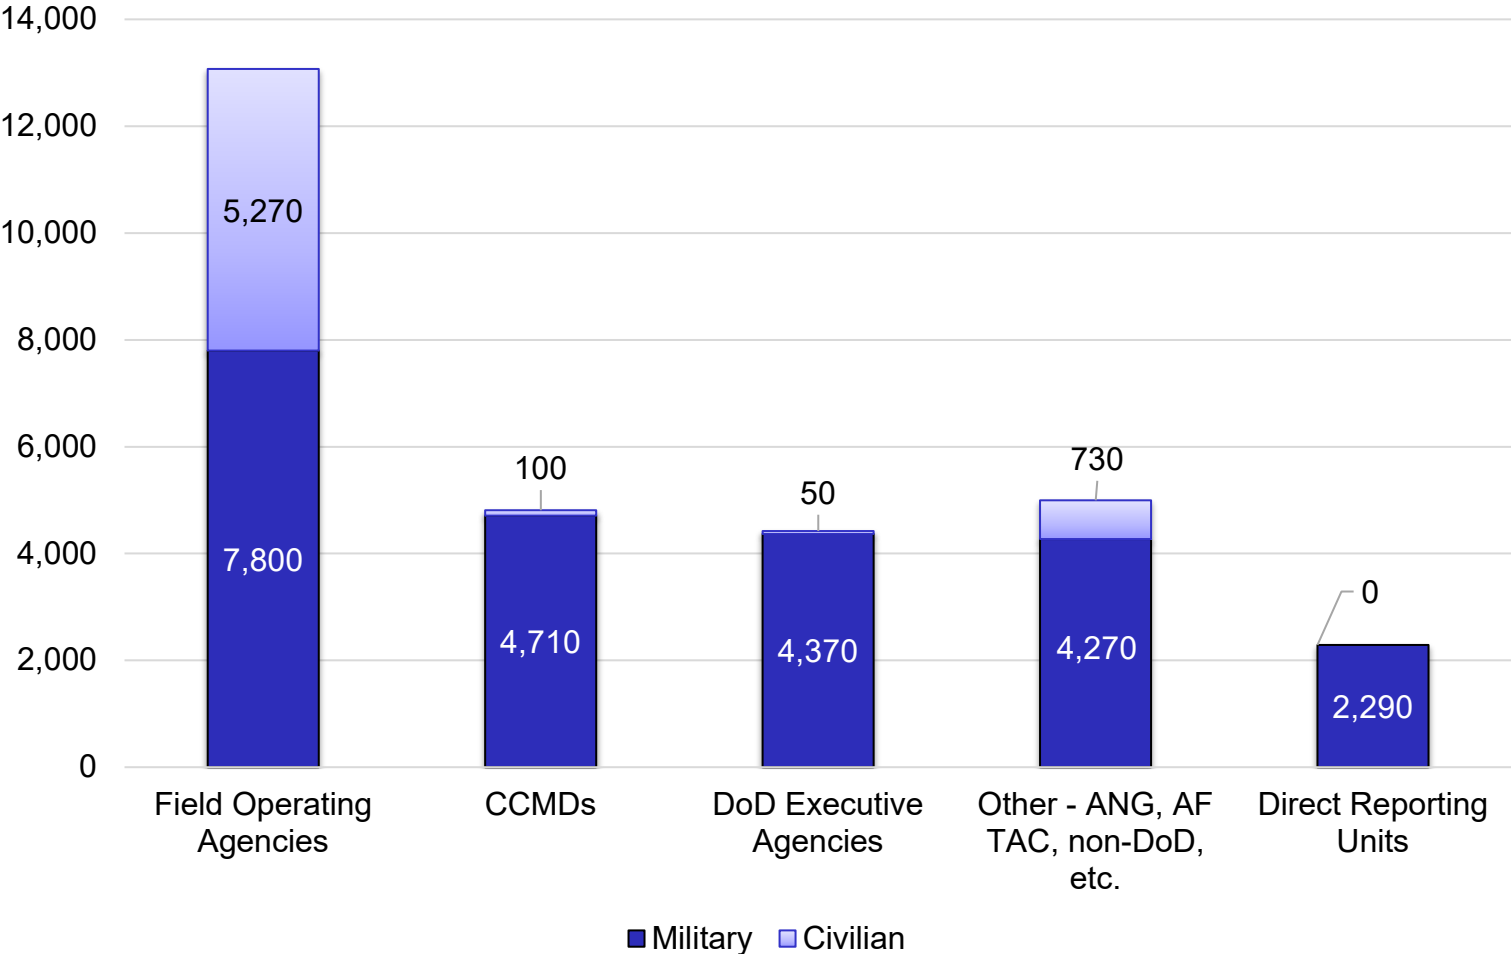

- Airmen are typically assigned to one of nine MAJCOMs when supporting a USAF mission. The MAJCOMs provide administrative support and command authorities.
- When an Airman is selected for an assignment that takes him/her outside of the above construct (e.g., Joint/interagency/combined assignment, Attaché, Security Cooperation Officer, Exchange Officer, FOA, DRU, etc.), (s)he is administratively assigned to AFDW, which provides the Airman with MAJCOM-like, administrative support and command authorities.

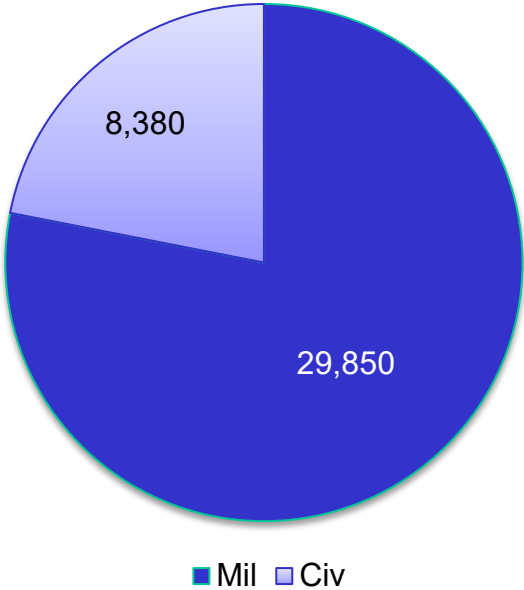

AFDW provides for ~38K Airmen – ~29.6K of whom are Worldwide Mission Airmen

Who are Worldwide Mission Customers?

New Terms Overview

Once outside the traditional Air Force construct you will be exposed to terms with which you may not be familiar. Here are a few that will quickly become part of your vernacular.

SAFO	A commander for purposes of imposing nonjudicial punishment on USAF and USSF members assigned to that organization even if the USAF element of that organization has not been formally designated as a unit and the SAFO has not formally been appointed to command
Unit	A military organization constituted by Headquarters Air Force or, for provisional units only, designated by a Major Command, Field Operating Agency, or Direct Reporting Unit
Air Force Element (AFELM)	A non-unit nomenclature used to account for manpower authorizations and to identify AF personnel on duty with organizations outside the AF, such as defense Agencies, defense field activities, and ANG units not in federal service. Although not a unit for organizational purposes, an AF Element may function as a unit if so designated by the competent authority, an eligible commissioned officer either assumes command or is appointed to command and AF members are assigned or attached to the AF Element
GCMCA / SCMCA	Convening authority authorized to convene general/special courts-martial
Command Relationship (COMREL)	A relationship between the supported and supporting command required to work closely together in order to develop the best organization structure to support mission requirements and build a clear chain of command

Steps for Seeking AFDW Support

- If you need administrative support, please contact your Military Personnel Flight.
- If you need additional information, speak with your SAFO, AFELM Commander, and/or SEL.
- Your SAFO, AFELM/CC, or SEL will reach out to the AFDW Worldwide Mission Branch by:
 - Completing a Support Management System ticket on www.afdw.af.mil/worldwide
 - Emailing afdw.worldwide@us.af.mil
 - Or reaching to an existing POC
- Your leadership will receive a response from the chosen functional area. As necessary, they will be directed to the right entity to support the request. AFDW will keep them updated on ticket status.
